NONREIMBURSABLE SPACE ACT AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION
LYNDON B. JOHNSON SPACE CENTER AND KENTUCKY SPACE, LLC
FOR NEW OPERATION OF A MULTILAB ABOARD THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION
NATIONAL LABORATORY.

ARTICLE 1. AUTHORITY AND PARTIES

In accordance with the National Aeronautics and Space Act (51 U.S.C. § 20113), this Agreement is entered into by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center, located at 2101 NASA Parkway, Houston, Texas 77058 (hereinafter referred to as "NASA" or "NASA JSC") and Kentucky Space, LLC located at 200 West Vine Street, Suite 420, Lexington, KY 40507 (hereinafter referred to as "Partner" or "KS"). NASA and Partner may be individually referred to as a "Party" and collectively referred to as the "Parties."

ARTICLE 2. PURPOSE

NASA operates a share of the U.S. accommodations of the International Space Station (ISS) as a national laboratory in accordance with the NASA Authorization Acts of 2005 and 2010. To fulfill this mandate, NASA released an announcement entitled the "OPPORTUNITY FOR THE USE OF THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION BY DOMESTIC ENTITIES OTHER THAN U.S. FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AGENCIES". Kentucky Space (KS) responded to that announcement with a proposal to further utilize the ISS by installing hardware that enables multiple small payloads to be operated within an Expedite the Processing of Experiments to Space Station (EXPRESS) Rack (ER) locker. Kentucky Space is a non-profit organization that was developed to promote space research and STEM education and jobs in the state of Kentucky. In light of the proven capabilities of Kentucky Space, NASA is entering into a Space Act Agreement with Kentucky Space in which NASA will provide on-orbit resources and launch and return opportunities, as defined in Article 3 – Responsibilities. This agreement will enable opportunities for space-based research, with the goal of future commercialization of products.

The KS MultiLab-1 will be a single EXPRESS Locker-sized platform that will allow for up to 48 1U CubeLab module volumes (100 mm x 100 mm x 100 mm) or any variety of CubeLab®, PocketLab, or other experiment standard. The KS MultiLab-1 is designed for flexibility; providing multiple power and data protocol options to payloads within the locker. All experiments will be tied into the KS MultiLab-1's main computer, which itself will communicate to the ground through the NASA STELLA system. Both downlink of data and uplink of experiment commands or new software will be available to Kentucky Space customers/users.

The KS MultiLab-1 will have two hookups. The first will be a power connector that interfaces the KS MultiLab-1 to the ER power cable that in turn connects to an ER power connector which will provide station power to the MultiLab-1. The second will be an Ethernet cable from the MultiLab-1 into the EXPRESS rack to allow data transfer. Experiments will be transferred back and forth from ISS via cargo ships. It is expected that most experiments can be disposed of from the ISS, but it is anticipated that some will require return to the Earth.

The KS MultiLab-1 is not a locker insert but will be a complete EXPRESS rack locker structure meeting the external dimensions, mounting, thermal, air exchange, and containment requirements as outlined in the latest revision of the EXPRESS Rack-IDD (SSP 52000-IDD-ERP).

ARTICLE 3. RESPONSIBILITIES

NASA will use reasonable efforts to:

1. Provide Kentucky Space with on-orbit facility accommodations on the ISS. It is anticipated that KS will arrange for flights to the ISS through the agency of the entity chosen by NASA to operate the ISS National Lab or at Kentucky Space's discretion, directly through visiting vehicle providers (e.g. Energia [Progress, Soyuz], SpaceX [Dragon], Orbital Sciences [Cygnus], ESA [ATV] or JAXA [HTV]).
2. Provide Kentucky Space appropriate resources to allow Kentucky Space and its customers to effectively conduct research and development on the ISS at NASA's discretion following the process established to plan and integrate activities onboard the ISS.
3. Assist Kentucky Space to identify ground-based pre-flight and post-flight resources at launch and primary landing or alternate landing sites. This will include needed facilities and personnel as required to set-up labs, and operate and conduct work for each space flight mission on which Kentucky Space is manifested for pre-flight and post-flight payload recovery and processing. The provision of Space Life Science Laboratory (SLSL) resources and access to Space Station Processing Facility (SSPF) resources, if needed, will be provided under a separate Reimbursable Agreement between Kentucky Space and NASA.
4. Jointly approve, with Kentucky Space, Interface Control Documents (ICDs) developed by Kentucky Space, which define the interface between the Kentucky Space systems and the ISS.
5. Review and approve customers selected by Kentucky Space as part of the utilization of the ISS as a national lab.
6. Choose the entity to operate the ISS National Lab.

KS will use reasonable efforts to:

1. Develop the KS MultiLab-1 to interface with an EXPRESS rack. Kentucky Space shall be solely responsible for hardware design, development, manufacture, testing, system integration, as well as mockup development, operational procedures, ground test equipment development and the operational infrastructure to carry out a full-scale flight program.
2. Develop an operational concept for the payload, including on-orbit activation and operational constraints, crew interface requirements, and on-orbit maintenance.
3. Develop an Interface Control Document (ICD) jointly approved with NASA, which defines the interfaces between the KS MultiLab-1 and the ISS.
4. Design, manufacture and test the KS MultiLab-1 hardware and assist Kentucky Space partners and customers with the design, manufacture and testing of their experiments.
5. Engage academic, commercial and governmental institutions with opportunities to conduct research and development within the KS MultiLab-1 on board the ISS.
6. Conduct all flight research and development in accordance with NASA payload requirements.

7. Provide a selection process for customers, that includes giving the highest priority to customers with NASA agreements as part of the utilization of the ISS as a national lab. NASA retains the right to review and approve selected customers. All manifesting and increment planning for the ISS National Lab will be coordinated through the agency of the entity chosen by NASA to operate the ISS National Lab.
8. Provide NASA with Operational Reports on all payloads flown under this agreement.
9. Provide NASA with reports on and findings from the research and development conducted with payloads flown under this agreement, subject to confidentiality agreements with customers concerning research results.
10. Conduct (either directly or via educational partners) periodic public workshops outlining results from ISS research and future opportunities for such research.
11. Maintain a list of Principle Investigators and their requirement for restricting use of their data (not to exceed one year). Kentucky Space shall update and share this list with NASA prior to each launch of a new investigation.
12. Arrange for flights to the ISS through the agency of the entity chosen by NASA to operate the ISS National Laboratory, or at Kentucky Space's discretion, directly through visiting vehicle providers (e.g. Energia [Progress, Soyuz], Space X [Dragon], Orbital Sciences [Cygnus], European Space Agency [Automated Transfer Vehicle] or Japan Aerospace Exploration Agency [H-II Transfer Vehicle]}.

ARTICLE 5. FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

There will be no transfer of funds between the Parties under this Agreement and each Party will fund its own participation. All activities under or pursuant to this Agreement are subject to the availability of funds, and no provision of this Agreement shall be interpreted to require obligation or payment of funds in violation of the Anti-Deficiency Act, (31 U.S.C. § 1341).

ARTICLE 6. PRIORITY OF USE

Any schedule or milestone in this Agreement is estimated based upon the Parties' current understanding of the projected availability of NASA goods, services, facilities, or equipment. In the event that NASA's projected availability changes, Partner shall be given reasonable notice of that change, so that the schedule and milestones may be adjusted accordingly. The Parties agree that NASA's use of the goods, services, facilities, or equipment shall have priority over the use planned in this Agreement. Should a conflict arise, NASA in its sole discretion shall determine whether to exercise that priority. Likewise, should a conflict arise as between two or more non-NASA Partners, NASA, in its sole discretion, shall determine the priority as between those Partners. This Agreement does not obligate NASA to seek alternative government property or services under the jurisdiction of NASA at other locations.

ARTICLE 7. NONEXCLUSIVITY

This Agreement is not exclusive; accordingly, NASA may enter into similar agreements for the same or similar purpose with other private or public entities.

ARTICLE 8. LIABILITY AND RISK OF LOSS

A. The objective of this Article is to establish a cross-waiver of liability in the interest of encouraging participation in the exploration, exploitation, and use of outer space through the International Space Station (ISS). The Parties intend that the cross-waiver of liability be broadly construed to achieve this objective.

B. For the purposes of this Article:

Except as otherwise provided in the Article entitled "Priority of Use," the Article entitled "Intellectual Property Rights – Invention and Patent Rights" (for those activities governed by 37 C.F.R. Part 404), and those situations where a pre-existing statutory or regulatory system exists (e.g., under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552), all disputes concerning questions of fact or law arising under this Agreement shall be referred by the claimant in writing to the appropriate person identified in this Agreement as the "Points of Contact."
